

As always invite a family member, a friend, a coworker, a “neighbor,” someone to share in this “Discipleship” training with you. Especially remember our all-church journey in the Art of Neighboring Come One, Come All Sunday next month on Palm Sunday April 14. (See bulletin insert a couple weeks ago) If you need another copy(s) please ask at the church office.

Another sneak peek ahead...On the April First Friday gathering we plan to have a Sunday School/Discipleship training program led by Mr. Ken Pierce, Sunday School teacher of our young adult class. Everyone is invited and encouraged to attend, especially Sunday School teachers, assistants and anyone interested in becoming a teacher or assistant. So, plan to come and enjoy a nice meal and awesome training session. Have a question? Please feel free to ask Pastor Timothy, Pastor JJ, Ken Pierce or me.

Hello Saints at Braddock;

Grace and Peace be multiplied to you.

The deacons are supporting their families with action and prayer. If you have not shared prayer concerns with your deacon, I encourage you to do so. Not only is the Lord faithful to answer prayer, but relationships can be deepened and broadened when we pray with one another.

One of the most dangerous places to be in our Christian life is when we think prayer is unnecessary or if we share our needs then other people might “think” I am not a strong Christian. Well Paul said when he is weak then He is strong. Learn a life of dependence and openness before God.

We are here to serve you.

Lord bless you, Mitch & the Deacon team

Note from the Associate Pastor

Dear Braddock,

It’s already March and it honestly doesn’t feel like the New Year happened so recently! This month holds some special occasions for the Engelbrecht family. But most prominent would be that Alyssa is turning 27 this month! We are so blessed to have had 2 birthdays so far here with Braddock. Not only is my wife turning another year older but our boy Xander just recently turned 6 months old. We understand now what everyone means by not blinking; because time will pass before we know it. This month is quite simple in terms of what is going on for the young adults & for the worship program. I hope to use this summary of the month as an encouragement to you all, Braddock, to follow along in the same mindset. This month we are looking at the God’s Word as more than words. We’re looking at God’s Word as instruction. Therefore, you will notice more of an emphasis on the “command” to worship this month and you’ll see the young adults going out to the community for evangelism. Simple obedience is the current lesson God has placed on my heart for Braddock. So Braddock... are your relationships falling in line with God’s Word? Is the way you approach your day job falling in line with God’s Word? Are the words you are speaking out loud falling in line with God’s Word? What in your life isn’t lining up with God’s Word? Fix that this month. You have been given the power through the Holy Spirit to say “no” to sin and been given all the things needed to live out obedience. “His divine power has given us everything required for life and godliness through the knowledge of him who called us by his own glory and goodness. By these he has given us very great and precious promises, so that through them you may share in the divine nature, escaping the corruption that is in the world because of evil desire.” (2 Peter 1:3-4)

Dear Beloved,

I am thrilled to write to you regarding our youth program here at Braddock Baptist Church. So many things are going on and I am just filled with joy at the thought that God is using me to impact these beautiful kids. I pray that God continues to bring laborers to the harvest (Luke 10:2), and even more so, youthful laborers. This day and age, our young ones are beaten down with so many ideas, ideologies, false beliefs, religions, distractions, etc. (The list could go on forever); we must be faithful in praying for our youth every day. Their battle field is very different from our own. I also pray that God uses me to give them the tools and strategies to grow in our Lord and build the only true relationship that matters, their relationship with God.

Let's use this month to really get on our knees in prayer. Let's be faithful in praising our King and asking Him to do miraculous things, through faith. (We could move mountains!) I encourage you, whatever stage of life this finds you, to PRAY. Right now, PRAY. Be vulnerable to our Lord and Savior.

I am challenging our youth to read one verse a day and pray at least one time a day. This is, of course, just a stepping stone to hopefully build a habit of their own. If you find yourself distant from a very personal God, I encourage you to join us as we diligently and consciously make time to grow our relationship with Jesus. Please reach out to us if you need anything at all. Our youth love serving and are ready and willing to serve our family and community.

In His Service, Jonathan Gesin
